Section to be added:

Cakes

Section to be added:

Sugarcraft is no longer to be judged as a separate discipline; the exhibit must be determined as either a craft or a cookery item.

If the sugarcraft or decoration on a cake is not edible because it has wires, skewers or cocktail sticks it will be judged as a craft item, with the cake itself not being judged. If the sugarcraft or decoration on a cake is entirely edible with no wires, skewers or cocktail sticks it could be judged as a cookery item, with the cake itself being judged. All elements must be edible for the exhibit to be judged as a cookery item. The show schedule must clearly state what is to be allowed.

All information from pages 125-128 should be referred to in order to judge a sugarcraft element of a cookery or a craft item.

Replace the bullet points one to three with:

- Novelty Cakes can be judged as a cookery or craft item:
 1. If the sugarcraft or decoration on a cake is entirely edible with no wires, skewers or cocktail sticks it could be judged as a cookery item, with the cake itself being judged. All elements must be edible. The marking scheme for 'Iced and Decorated Cakes' in 'Cookery' would be used.
 2. If the sugarcraft or decoration on a cake is not edible because it has wires, skewers or cocktail sticks it would be judged as a craft item, with the cake itself not being judged. The marking scheme for 'Sugarcraft' in 'Craft' or the marking scheme for 'Entries to be judged on decoration only' in 'Craft' could be used.

3. The show schedule must clearly state what is to be allowed.

The remaining bullet points still apply.
