

CORNWALL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

SPEAKERS' DIRECTORY

INTRODUCTION

This Speakers' Directory is produced by the Cornwall Federation of Women's Institutes (CFWI). It provides WIs in the Federation with useful information to help them to choose good and effective speakers for their monthly meetings on a wide range of interesting and educational topics.

Potential new speakers frequently approach the Federation. We hold audition days up to two times a year to select new speakers. WI members from across the county attend these days. The WI members appraise the auditions and the Board of Trustees takes full account of their recommendations in deciding whom to accept. If you would like to be considered as a speaker, or if you know someone who does, please contact the Federation Secretary on 01872 272843 or secretary@cornwallwi.org.uk. If you would like to attend a Speakers' Audition Day, the next one is advertised in County News.

The Directory is kept up to date on the website. We no longer publish and distribute paper copy of the directory as a matter of course, because it so quickly becomes out of date. Nevertheless, if you would like a paper copy, please contact the Federation Secretary using the details in the previous paragraph.

The Directory is compiled with great care, but CFWI cannot accept responsibility for the contents and reserves the right to make any alterations it may think fit.

If you engage a speaker who is particularly good, please let us know. Similarly, if you are dissatisfied with a speaker from this Directory please contact the Federation Secretary straight away - that way we can help ensure the continued good quality and reliability of our speakers.

IMPORTANT NOTES RE PAYMENTS FOR SPEAKERS

Always confirm fees, expenses, etc., with a speaker before booking, and ask for confirmation in writing or by email of the agreed terms. If no fee is mentioned, it does not necessarily follow that a talk or demonstration is free.

When paying charity speakers or speakers donating their fee to charity, there are two potential scenarios:

1. The speaker raises an invoice for payment by the WI. Here, the WI pays the invoice to the speaker for their services. The speaker may well then pass this on to the charity, but this is not a donation from the WI to the charity but a payment to the speaker for services.

2. The charity raises an invoice for payment by the WI. Here, the WI pays the invoice to the charity for their services. This is not a donation to the charity but payment for services, therefore the charity's charitable objects do not have to be in line with the WI's charitable objects.

If you are paying a non-charity speaker, the speaker must raise an invoice for payment by the WI. The invoice may be in the individual's name or the organisation's name. Here, the WI pays the invoice to the speaker for their services.

If you have queries on this, contact your WI Adviser.

If a speaker wants to sell goods at the meeting, so long as you are happy with that, then he/she may do so provided the speaker donates at least 10% of the total takings to your WI.

HAVING A SPEAKER – A NOVICE'S GUIDE

Make sure you invite your speaker well in advance, either by email or in writing. Ensure the speaker knows the meeting venue location, including any information about parking, and the timetable of the meeting.

Much of your communication will be by email. If you write to a speaker, enclose a stamped addressed envelope.

Always give your speakers a telephone number - preferably the mobile number of one of your WI officers, in case of a last-minute emergency. Ensure you have an emergency number for the speaker on the day too.

Send a reminder to your speaker at least 10 days before the date of your meeting.

Ask the speaker what equipment he/she is bringing and what the WI needs to provide. Check that it is compatible and will operate effectively. Check how long the speaker needs to set up for his/her talk and agree when that will be done.

Agree how the meeting room will be laid out for the speaker.

Agree a time of arrival and how long the speaker will talk, including questions.

Send your speaker a map showing the location of your hall, or direct the speaker to your website, if directions are shown there.

ON THE DAY

Make sure the room is laid out appropriately for the speaker.

If the speaker is coming by car, keep a parking space outside the hall.

Nominate someone to greet the speaker, give him/her a warm welcome and a cup of tea or coffee. Ensure the speaker has everything needed, and make sure there is a glass of water on the table for him/her.

Do see that the speaker is not kept waiting past the agreed time for the talk. The speaker should not be expected to wait long while you finish your business, and he/she may have a long journey home after the talk.

Introduce the speaker correctly (name, job/position, talk title, etc.), even if he/she is known locally or is a WI member.

If the speaker over-runs, judge how the meeting is going and at an appropriate time stand up and indicate politely to the speaker that he/she needs to wind up.

After the talk, thank the speaker, or ask a member to give a short vote of thanks. Always pay your speaker at the time of the talk, not by post later.

IF A SPEAKER FAILS TO COME

If the speaker is late, ring him/her to ascertain the situation and whether you can accommodate a changed arrangement. In case your speaker should fail to come too late for you to contact anyone else (e.g., his/her car may break down on the way to the meeting), always have some ideas in readiness, so that members may enjoy their monthly meeting anyway. Be prepared. Here are a few suggestions:

- Prepare a quiz in advance and keep it for “just in case”.
- Have a round-table discussion on WI issues - ideas for next year’s programme, outings, competitions and social time, or resolutions you would like to see passed.
- Have a Woman’s Hour or magazine-type programme, on topical or local issues. Prepare a few topics in advance.
- Bring a CD player and have an easy social evening with background music (if your hall or venue holds a music license) over a cup of coffee. Use it as an opportunity for members to mix and have the opportunity for a chat with new or different women - not just the ones they usually sit with.
- Some of your own members might be able to speak about or demonstrate a craft or hobby, or show particularly interesting pictures. Why not ask one or two if they would like to do so sometime and keep this list in reserve?
- Is there anyone nearby who would come and speak? Consider contacting your WI Adviser for advice.

AND FINALLY Enjoy your meetings and we hope that this directory helps you make the best of them!
